

Faculty Special Assignment (January 3, 2022 through June 30, 2023)

Teaching and Learning Center (TLC)
District Administrative Center
Manager: Interim Chancellor Dr. Jannett Jackson

The Teaching and Learning Center has an opening for a faculty special assignment beginning January 3, 2022 through June 30, 2023. This is an ancillary assignment. Reporting directly to the Chancellor, the faculty member chosen will be responsible for the development and management of the Training and Learning Center for all members of the District, including faculty, classified professionals, and administrators, while focusing on diversity, equity, and inclusion.

All interested faculty members are encouraged to apply. This is an eleven (11) month appointment. Release time will be 80% related to the development and management of the Training and Learning Center with 20% devoted to teaching. Appropriate additional compensation will be provided.

To be considered, please submit your Statement of Interest, resume, and a cover letter, via email, to Natasha Spivey at nspivey@peralta.edu by December 7, 2021.

The Chancellor may choose to conduct interviews for the assignment, and it is anticipated that the decision to select the candidate to fill this special assignment shall be made by the Chancellor on or before December 15, 2021. The successful candidate will be notified via email within 5 days following the Chancellor's decision.

The selected individual must have an earned doctoral degree and at least 3 years of leadership experience, ideally at a senior management level. In addition, the selected individual must have demonstrated project management skills and be able to work collaboratively with many different constituencies.
